Item 4 - Other Business Activities

This activity involves 34% or less of his time during traditional business hours each month. Mr. Sharpe is able to sell annuities, life, health, and long-term care coverage to interested parties through various unaffiliated insurance companies via our insurance agency Oak Harvest Insurance Services, LLC. Clients should be aware that these services pay a commission and involve a conflict of interest, as commissionable products conflict with the fiduciary duties of a registered investment adviser. Oak Harvest Investment Services always acts in the best interest of the client; including the sale of commissionable products to advisory clients. Clients always have the right to decide whether or not to utilize the services of any representative of Oak Harvest Investment Services in such individual's outside capacities.

Mr. Sharpe is the President and Managing Member of OHFG Ventures, LP and OHFG Management, Inc, the owning companies of Oak Harvest Investment Services, LLC and Oak Harvest Insurance Services, LLC. He may receive income from revenue generated from both of these entities. This activity involves 34% of less of his time during traditional business hours each month.

Mr. Sharpe is President and Managing Member of Troy Sharpe Consulting, LLC; a closely held entity used for the purpose of personal income and expenses. Mr. Sharpe is not registered, nor has an application pending to register, as a registered representative of a broker/dealer or associated person of a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, or commodity trading advisor. He does not receive commissions, bonuses or other compensation based on the sale of securities, including that as a registered representative of a broker/dealer or the distribution or service ("trail") fees from the sale of mutual funds. Mr. Sharpe and our advisory firm do not have a material relationship with the issuer of a security.

Item 5 -Additional Compensation

Mr. Sharpe is a licensed insurance agent and appointed with various unaffiliated insurance carriers via our insurance agency Oak Harvest Insurance Services, LLC. He receives a commission or renewal payment from the issuer subsequent to a client's purchase of an insurance contract. Further information with regard to these other activities may be found in the directly above section "Other Business Activities." Whether they are serving a client in one or more capacities, Oak Harvest representatives will disclose in advance how they are being compensated and if there is a conflict of interest involving any advice or service being provided. At no time will there be tying between business practices and/or services; a condition where a client or prospective client would be required to accept one product or service which is conditional upon the selection of a second, distinctive tied product or service. The offer and sale of Insurance products are not made in the associate's capacity as a fiduciary and is limited to providers that have agreements to sell with Oak Harvest Insurance Services. No client is ever obligated to purchase any insurance product. Insurance products may also be available from other providers on more favorable terms, but OHIS and its associates will always act in the best interests of the client.

Item 6 - Supervision

Because supervising one's self poses a conflict of interest, the firm has adopted policies and procedures to mitigate this conflict and may use the services of unaffiliated professionals to ensure the firm's oversight obligations are met. Questions relative to the firm, its services or this Form ADV Part 2B may be made to the attention of Mr. Sharpe at (281) 822-1350.

Information about Professional Designations/ Education

The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER, CFP, and federally registered CFP (with flame design) marks (collectively, the "CFP" marks") are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. ("CFP Board"). The CFP certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP" certification.

It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 62,000 individuals have obtained CFP" certification in the United States. To attain the right to use the CFP" marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education- Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board's studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board's financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination- Pass the comprehensive CFP Certification Examination. The examination includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one's ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one's knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;

- Experience- Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and
- Ethics- Agree to be bound by CFP Board's Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP marks:

- Continuing Education- Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics- Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP" certification.

The Registered Financial Consultant (RFC®) is a professional designation awarded by the International Association of Registered Financial Consultants (IARFC) to those financial advisors who can meet the high standards of education, experience and integrity that are required of all its members. The IARFC is an organization of proven financial professionals formed to foster public confidence in the financial planning profession, to help financial advisors exchange planning techniques, and to give deserved recognition to those practitioners who are truly qualified and committed to professional education. The IARFC financial planning professional association requires its members to meet seven stringent requirements: Education, Examination, Experience, Licensing, Business Integrity, Adherence to a strict code of ethics, and Maintenance of proficiency with a minimum of 40 hours per year of continuing education in the field of financial planning. The IARFC is convinced that extensive on-going professional education is required for an advisor to serve the public effectively. The primary goal of the IARFC is to provide the public with a pool of well-qualified practitioners from which to choose a personal advisor. The IARFC accomplishes this by limiting the RFC designation only to those applicants who meet its high standards of qualification. It removes the designation from anyone who fails to maintain proficiency through substantial continuing education, or who betrays the public trust by failing to live up to its Code of Ethics or by having a professional license revoked or suspended for any reason. A computer bank of members and their qualifications is maintained to provide the general public with the names, addresses and phone numbers of the nearest Registered Financial Consultants. This service is available to any interested party through the IARFC website: www.IARFC.org

Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), North American Securities Administrators Association (NASAA) and state insurance examinations are "criterion based;" candidates who pass the exam are considered to have met the minimum competency level. The completion of an industry examination does not constitute or imply a person is "approved" or "endorsed" by a state, federal or industry regulatory body.

CFA - Chartered Financial Analyst

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute - the largest global association of investment professionals.

There are currently more than 90,000 CFA charterholders working in 134 countries. To earn the CFA charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA charterholders-often making the charter a prerequisite for employment.

Additionally, regulatory bodies in 22 countries and territories recognize the CFA charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession.

- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

- ii. Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care.
